UNIVERSAL PANACEA – your personal physician Transformational medicine from Beyond Medicine

Universal Panacea is a remedy in the form of liquid drops taken orally. It is part of the Transformational Medicine series from Beyond Medicine and is made from Marosa (the Hospital plant) with 6 variations of gold.

TARGETS

- The layers of pre-condition that allow disease to manifest
- The physical, emotional and energetic systems
- Detoxification pathways and metabolic balance
- Accumulated energetic and physiological residues
- Resilience and adaptive capacity

Panacea is extraordinary in that it literally carries diagnostic intelligence that delivers a healing formula tailored to individual need. Using a blend of ancient healing technologies from various traditions and ancient alchemy, it truly breaks all barriers on the healing frontier. Think of it as your personal diagnostic physician with a database of healing skills and medicines ready to dispense as is required. Understanding how Marosa works is key to how this formula administers a tailor-made prescription individual to each person.

Marosa is a sacred plant amongst Peruvian practitioners. Traditional use meant soaking your feet in water for 15 minutes, pouring the soak water over Marosa, waiting 15 mins for the plant to absorb your signature, then making tea from the leaves.

The plant manufactures the components required and the tea delivers the prescription. Functionally, this is what Marosa does in Universal Panacea without needing the process described above. Marosa sits at the centre of a golden hexagon delivering what's needed whether conceptual, physical, ancestral, karmic, or adaptative.

The gold variation, Aurum Potabile (drinkable gold) strengthens the organ systems and starts removing residual build ups from the body by harmonising the four elements. Its' broad matrix of roots, seeds, flowers, leaves, resins and spices supports digestive fire, the heart, circulation and strengthens the liver and gall bladder also boosting metabolism. Aurum Potabile is not a single-issue remedy but more a field modulating elixir. Bobinsana serves to anchor and ground and is a heart strengthener. Sananga clears emotional residue, uncried tears and residual emotions.

In addition, Universal Panacea is infused with primal sound vibration used specifically for chasing away disease.

This remedy stands to revolutionise health and treatment as it works on the layers underneath the disease processes directing the body towards a perfect health condition.

Universal Panacea is a multipronged approach to removing disease. It addresses the terrain which has been disturbed, the conditions from which disease arose in the first place as well as the actual illness itself. In all senses this is a complete medicine as it addresses the origin, the state and the consequences of disease simultaneously.
